VISION

To inspire students to be life-long learners through rigor and relevance.

MISSION

To prepare all students to successfully enter the world of work and/or further their education by challenging them with rigorous academic and technical studies.

Wolfpack Family:

It has been a powerful year of teaching and learning at South Fort Myers High School! We have seen huge gains in our core academic subjects, and also had increased student participation in athletics, clubs, student government, etc. I am so proud of our students, teachers, and staff, and truly believe our students are connecting with the continued message of, “Always do your best!” Thank you parents, family members, and friends who support our students outside of school. Please make it a priority to check the school website and social media accounts often for information regarding upcoming summer and fall school activities. As always, please contact me at 239-561-0060 for any concerns you have regarding your student. Have a Powerful Wolfpack Day!

Thank you for being a member of our Wolfpack Family!

Ed Mathews, Principal

Hospitality & Tourism

Hospitality & Tourism students toured the Luminary Hotel (Marriott Boutique) in downtown Fort Myers. Students learned about the hotel business and career opportunities. Students also had a chance to check out potential prom venues by visiting the Burroughs Home as well as the Sidney Berne Davis Art Center. Mrs. Schultz has also taken the students to other businesses such as Head Pinz, Fort Myers beach Event, and AICE Event here at SFMHS.

BARR at South Fort Myers High School

The BARR model, Building Assets and Reducing Risks, changes a large school into a smaller learning community where every student has at least one adult who knows them not only as students but as individuals. Students face many challenges in High School and BARR provides support for the whole student and helps them overcome both academic and non-academic challenges which might be impeding their growth academically and interpersonally. As we wrap up the 2021-2022 school year, our community-building lessons will focus on reducing risks while setting and sharing goals and dreams for the future. If you are interested in joining our BARR Parent Advisory Board next fall please contact Ms. Katrina Gunnels, BARR Coordinator, at Katrinalg@leeschools.net.

BARR Conference 2022: Palm Springs, CA

SFMHS was fortunate enough to send 11 staff members to Palm Springs for the BARR 2022 Conference.

South Fort Myers was featured as the center spread for this year's conference booklet. During the conference, we had the opportunity to hear from some amazing people and their journey as a student. Author Treopia Green Washington, Olympians from the ladies US Hockey Team Kelly Pannek and Nicole Hensley along with their Silver & Gold medals, Jon Gordon, and Kai Kight just to name a few.

Byron Donalds stopped by to speak with our JFG students about opportunities after graduation.

SFM Assistant Principal Jenn Seluk was inducted into the Lee County Athletic Hall of Fame. Congrats Ms. Seluk!

School Advisory Council News...

All South Fort Myers High School stakeholders - parents, students, community members, and business partners - are invited to be a part of the School Advisory Council (SAC) in the 2022-2023 school year, please email Taylor Locke at TaylorSL@LeeSchools.net. We would love to have all stakeholders be informed of and involved in all the exciting happenings at South Fort Myers High School.

JROTC

Congratulations to our very own South Fort Myers JROTC Brigade Commander Cadet Colonel Isabella Nieves who was selected through a highly competitive selection board process to be the Deputy Area Commander for Lee County JROTC for the 2022/2023 school year. Cadet Nieves was chosen above the other extraordinary candidates by distinctly displaying the knowledge, bearing and leadership skills needed to fill this distinguished position.

How to Help Students Do Their Best on Tests

Teacher-Made vs. Standardized Tests Most of the tests your student takes are teacher-made tests. Teachers create tests to measure student progress—to determine where each child is, who needs extra help and who is ahead of most of the other students. They use test results to guide their teaching plans, methods and strategies. And, of course, teachers use test results to help determine grades. Standardized tests are used to measure student performance throughout a state or across the country. Each student takes the same test, under the same conditions and following the same rules. This allows each student's performance to be

Know the Strategies Your Student Can Use During Any Test While there are specific ways to approach specific kinds of tests (standardized tests, true-false tests and essay tests, for example) there are some general strategies that will help your student do her best on any test. Make sure she knows them and is able to use them. During the test, your student should:

- Read the instructions carefully. Then she should read them again to make sure she knows exactly what she is supposed to do.
- Look for direction words that tell them what they are supposed to do. Direction words are words like compare, list, describe, define and summarize.
- Read through all the questions quickly before they start. She should think about how much time she has and decide how much time she can spend on each question.
- Read each question carefully as they begin the test. She should understand exactly what the statement or question says. Then she should determine what she thinks the answer is before she reads any choices provided.
- Skip a question if they aren't sure of the answer. She should answer all the questions she knows first. Then she can come back to the others.
- Allow time to go back and check their answers. Do they make sense? Are sentences complete? Did she leave out any key words, such as not, that might change her intended meaning?

Overcoming Test Anxiety

It's normal to get a little nervous before a big test, but many students suffer from excessive test anxiety. They worry so much about taking the test that their performance suffers. While it may be helpful to simply tell your student to relax or stop worrying, there are other things you can do to help him diffuse those pre-test jitters. For example:

- Make sure they spread studying out over time. True learning requires time to study, review and think about the content. And knowing the material is the best way to reduce anxiety and stress.
- Discourage them from cramming the night before a test. Cramming does little but increase the level of anxiety, which can interfere with clear thinking. The most important things he can do the day before a test are to review and then get a good night's sleep.
- Show them how to relax. Some children find it helpful to close their eyes and take a few deep breaths before starting a test. Others like to visualize a relaxing place, such as a peaceful river. Encourage him to keep a positive outlook. Have him envision himself doing well on the test.
- Remind them that test scores aren't everything. There are other things that are important, too—things such as having a good attendance record, a good attitude and completing homework assignments, for example. Test scores are just one part of the total grade.
- Help him keep things in perspective. Make sure he knows that, while you want him to do his best, he doesn't have to be the best. Assure him that your love for him is not dependent on his test scores.

Interested in Driver's Ed?

Students, please see Mr. Morehead in room 168 if you are interested in taking the summer driver education course. The class will start in early June. Students must have a learner's permit or license to take the class.

Students will receive a grade and credit for taking the summer DE course. Students will also receive the insurance waiver on the last day of the course which hopefully will save you money on your car insurance. Mr. Morehead is an approved DMV third party tester. He can give you the road skills test. He can give you a waiver if you pass the road skills test.

You will then show the waiver to the DMV when you go to get your driver's license. You will not need to take the road skills test again.

The class fills up quickly. Please see Mr. Morehead in room 168 to sign up for the class. Please call Mr. Morehead at 239-561-0060 if you have any questions.

Cómo Ayudar a los Estudiantes a Hacer lo Mejor Que Puedan en los Exámenes

Exámenes elaborados por el maestro versus exámenes estandarizados La mayoría de los exámenes que toma su estudiante son exámenes elaborados por el maestro. Los maestros crean pruebas para medir el progreso de los estudiantes, para determinar dónde está cada niño, quién necesita ayuda adicional y quién está por delante de la mayoría de los demás estudiantes. Usan los resultados de las pruebas para guiar sus planes, métodos y estrategias de enseñanza. Y, por supuesto, los maestros usan los resultados de las pruebas para ayudar a determinar las calificaciones. Las pruebas estandarizadas se utilizan para medir el desempeño de los estudiantes en todo el estado o en todo el país. Cada estudiante realiza la misma prueba, en las mismas condiciones y siguiendo las mismas reglas. Esto permite que el desempeño de cada estudiante sea

Conozca las estrategias que su estudiante puede usar durante cualquier prueba Si bien existen formas específicas de abordar tipos específicos de pruebas (pruebas estandarizadas, pruebas de verdadero o falso y pruebas de redacción, por ejemplo), hay algunas estrategias generales que ayudarán a su estudiante a hacer lo mejor posible en cualquier prueba Asegúrese de que los conozca y pueda usarlos. Durante la prueba, su estudiante debe:

- Lea atentamente las instrucciones. Luego debe volver a leerlos para asegurarse de que sabe exactamente lo que se supone que debe hacer.
- Busque palabras de dirección que le digan lo que se supone que debe hacer. Las palabras de dirección son palabras como comparar, enumerar, describir, definir y resumir.
- Lea todas las preguntas rápidamente antes de que comience. Debe pensar cuánto tiempo tiene y decidir cuánto tiempo puede dedicar a cada pregunta.
- Lea cada pregunta cuidadosamente cuando comience la prueba. Debe entender exactamente lo que dice la declaración o la pregunta. Luego, debe determinar cuál cree que es la respuesta antes de leer las opciones proporcionadas.
- Omita una pregunta si no está seguro de la respuesta. Ella debe responder todas las preguntas que sabe primero. Entonces ella puede volver con los demás.
- Dé tiempo para volver atrás y verificar sus respuestas. ¿Tienen sentido? ¿Las oraciones están completas? ¿Omitió alguna palabra clave, como no, que podría cambiar su significado previsto

Superar la Ansiedad Ante los Exámenes

Es normal ponerse un poco nervioso antes de un examen importante, pero muchos estudiantes sufren de ansiedad excesiva ante los exámenes. Se preocupan tanto por hacer el examen que su desempeño se resiente. Si bien puede ser útil simplemente decirle a su estudiante que se relaje o que deje de preocuparse, hay otras cosas que puede hacer para ayudarlo a disipar esos nervios previos a la prueba. Por ejemplo:

- Asegúrese de que distribuya el estudio con el tiempo. El verdadero aprendizaje requiere tiempo para estudiar, revisar y pensar en el contenido. Y conocer el material es la mejor manera de reducir la ansiedad y el estrés.
- Disuadirlo de estudiar atentamente la noche antes de un examen. Abarrotar no hace más que aumentar el nivel de ansiedad, lo que puede interferir con el pensamiento claro. Las cosas más importantes que puede hacer el día antes de un examen son repasar y luego dormir bien por la noche.
- Muéstrele cómo relajarse. A algunos niños les resulta útil cerrar los ojos y respirar profundamente antes de comenzar una prueba. A otros les gusta visualizar un lugar relajante, como un río tranquilo. Anímelo a mantener una perspectiva positiva. Pídale que se imagine a sí mismo haciéndolo bien en la prueba.
- Recuérdale que los puntajes de las pruebas no lo son todo. Hay otras cosas que también son importantes, como tener un buen registro de asistencia, una buena actitud y completar las tareas asignadas, por ejemplo. Los puntajes de las pruebas son solo una parte de la calificación total.
- Ayúdelo a mantener las cosas en perspectiva. Asegúrate de que sepa que, si bien quieres que haga lo mejor que pueda, no tiene que ser el mejor. Asegúrele que su amor por él no depende de los resultados de sus exámenes.

Wolfpack Sports News
ATTENTION ...ALL INCOMING FRESHMEN FOOTBALL PLAYERS!!

We are very excited about the upcoming 2022 Football Season, as our program has had awesome off-season workouts, and a great spring season. We are excited to welcome our new student/athletes into the Football Family. The class of 2026 will start working out with our Wolfpack football program on June 13th at 8am Monday Morning at the school Gymnasium. Workouts in the summer will be Monday- Thursday from 8 am – 12 pm... anybody who wants to play football in the fall needs to be a part of these workouts. You will need to bring with you: 1.) pair of tennis shoes, 2.) pair of cleats, 3.) a water bottle, and 4.) a great attitude/ work ethic.

For any information please contact Coach Willis May – Head Football Coach at 304-545-3015 or email at willism@leeschools.net.

Let's go Wolfpack!! Let's get this Work in!!
